The report of the Secretary of the Greenwood Library Fund shows the addition of thirty-three volumes the past year. The trustees have a balance of $73.61 on hand.

W. L. Shatzmann was granted saloon license from March 1st. John Burke's saloon license was transferred to Frank Eitel, the saloon to be conducted at No. 8 East Second street.

Maysville Elks were granted bowling alley license.

Mr. Sallee addressed Council and presented a statement of Auditor's Agent Watson giving a list of personality omitted from assessment the last five years, the assessment previous to that having been lost by limitation under the law. The total was $181,331.82 on which the taxes due the city amounts to $2,266 64.

The Committee on Claims and Accounts, with the City Attorney, presented report of its settlement with the Treasurer, Police Judge and Chief of Police for the year. On motion the report was ordered published in the city papers.

A petition from citizens of the Sixth ward asking for construction of drains or sewers to get rid of surface water was read and was laid on table "till a more convenient time."

Building permits were granted as follows: Ohio Valley Pulley Works, to build a frame warehouse on Main street; R. K. Hoeflich, to repair and improve building on Market; Ohio Valley Pulley Works, to move a warehouse from corner of Main street and railroad to rear of present warehouse; Mrs. O'Donnell, to build a stable and buggy shed on Forest avenue, Fifth ward; J. W. Lewis, to build a stable and coal house on Front street, West End; Henry Farwich, to build a coal house and stable on Morrison alley; Limestone Building Association, to build a coal house on Third street, Sixth ward.

Timothy Desmond's resignation as prison guard was accepted.

The rules were suspended and an ordinance adopted accepting a dedication of a street from E. T. and Geo. T. Hunter and extending from Third to Second, east of Lee. This is preliminary to the erection of the Government building.

Mayor Stallen presented his annual message as follows:

Gentlemen: It is not a legal duty imposed upon me as Mayor of a fourth-class city to address your honorable body upon matters of legislation. Being closely identified with you in the management of municipal affairs, and constrained to act for the best interest of our city, I feel there would be no impropriety in my suggesting a future policy and calling your attention to those matters which should, in my judgment, claim precedence during the present year.

The city's contract with the Citizens' Gas Company expired during the year last past. The taxpayers are demanding a new contract, one that will secure them a better and more efficient lighting of our public streets. So far as my personal desires go, I would prefer to see our own citizens have the benefit of this contract, providing they would satisfactorily light our public streets on as reasonable terms as a foreign company or corporation would agree to do. But to continue our present system, under the docking plan of deducting for lights not furnished, is unsatisfactory to the city as the payor and to the gas company as payee, and it does not meet public needs and necessities. While I appreciate your earnest efforts in trying to secure a contract that would meet public requirements, yet this matter should not longer be deferred, and you should take prompt action in securing a contract that will insure the satisfactory lighting of our streets.

In the beginning of the year 1898 the city's indebtedness was $110,000. The conservative policy of reducing the city's indebtedness was adopted with a view of leading up to street improvements. During the five years last past, the city's debt has been reduced $42,000, with a corresponding reduction in the annual interest of $2,200. The city's debt as it now stands, January 1st, 1903, is $68,000, and it is probable that this amount can be reduced by a prudent and economical management of our municipal affairs to the minimum of $50,000, before it would be necessary to issue bonds to pay for street improvements.

The public are demanding a better class of streets. The deplorable unsanitary condition of our streets, deeply coated with dust as they are in summer, snow, ice and mud in winter, poorly drained, with little or no sewerage, and a constant menace to the City Government for negligence suits, when properly considered, justify the public in demanding better streets. If the taxpayers are willing to bear the burdens of taxation to secure them, they should in my judgment be given an opportunity to pass upon the matter of street improvements. I suggest that a proposition be submitted to the voters at our next November election and let them vote upon it and determine whether we shall for the present have our streets improved. The money can be obtained at a very low rate of interest; in fact there has never been a time in the history of the city when it could obtain a loan on as cheap a rate of interest as at the present time.

If in your legislative judgment we should undertake street improvements, then there are some preliminaries that should be looked to in advance. One most important is the kind of streets we will construct. Great care and painstaking should be used to prevent jobbing and to secure to the people good, durable streets for their money. It would be calamitous to both city and taxpayers, after paying thousands of dollars to have bad streets imposed upon them, and before the debt had matured the streets would be worthless, and the taxpayers left in a worse fix than they were before undertaking the improvement. I suggest, it is it decided upon to undertake street improvements, that a committee of representative men from our City Council and our citizens be appointed to investigate and report to Council the best, cheapest and most durable streets to construct to meet our public necessities.

I suggest to you that our annual assessments should receive your close and merited attention. If we are to undertake street improvements, we will be compelled to have money to meet the exigencies of paying the debt and annual interest as they mature. Our annual assessments are not up to legal requirements. They are a continuation of the old routine—of repeating the old assessments that were in vogue before the classification of the cities, the burden of taxation principally falling on the real property, while many other kinds of property are escaping taxation, and do not contribute to the support of the municipal government. If full and complete assessments were required and obtained, it would be the means of raising the money to meet the annual installments of the debt and interest as it fell due.

The revenues of the city could be largely increased by imposing a license tax upon all franchises, trades, occupations and professions subject to a license tax under our charter. A proper discrimination between modes of taxation as provided for by the charter, and an application of each of its subjects will greatly aid in paying for street improvements. The charter expressly provides that "the cost of reconstructing the public ways, streets and alleys, or repairing the same and the cost of making foot crossings shall be borne exclusively by the city." It further provides that "the cost of making sidewalks, including curbing and guttering, whether by original construction or by reconstruction, shall be apportioned to the front foot as owned by the parties respectively fronting said improvements." It is evident the legislative intent was that the city was to pay for the reconstruction of so much of the street as does not include the sidewalk, including the curbing and guttering, and the latter was to be paid for by the owners abutting on the improvement. To continue to pay for any part of the construction or reconstruction of sidewalks, including guttering or curbing, out of the general fund because it was so done before on classification of the cities, is absurd, and an unlawful use of the powers of taxation, and a misappropriation of public funds. If the policy of the city, paying out of the general fund for improvements that should be paid by the owners of the property is continued in the future, as it has been in the past, it will wrongfully divert annual sums of money, which will be legally levied and collected to pay the bonds and interest we will issue to pay for the cost of street improvements.

If it is your legislative judgment, and the will of the tax-payers to undertake the improvement of our streets, I am ready to co-operate with you. I have endeavored not to dictate to you, but to suggest the need of a better lighting of our streets and the construction of a better class of public ways. I have, at the same time, endeavored to point out to you some necessary preliminaries that should be inaugurated before undertaking street improvements. I hope you will kindly consider my suggestions, and if in your judgment they meet your approval, I will gladly aid and assist you in carrying them out.

Mr. Eitel moved that the message be published and that a committee of four from Council, four from the citizens, with the Mayor added to consider the question and report as to what steps should be taken. Adopted. Those members who expressed themselves favor a special election on the question of street improvements.

On motion of Mr. Keith it was decided that a special meeting of Council be held to consider the claim of Auditor's Agent Watson.

Harry Ort, as Clerk of the Police Court, read a statement in which he claimed he had found a discrepancy of about $400 in the Chief of Police accounts for years 1898, 1899 and 1900. The report was referred to the Claims and Accounts Committee with instructions to employ an accountant to investigate the matter and report.

Mr. Dersch asked for information as to the rights and powers of the police. He stated that Policeman Bruce Easton had wilfully and maliciously broken into his storeroom Sunday and he moved to suspend Mr. Easton from the force indefinitely. A lively discussion ensued. The complaint was finally referred to Police Committee.

SHREWD WORK.

Mr. N. Gollenstein Runs Down Men Who Robbed and Shot J. B. Farrow.

Chain of Evidence Complete, Backed Up By Confession of One of Accused—Ed. Morris, Charley Saunders and Tom Mann Guilty Parties.

The men who robbed and attempted to kill Mr. John Bruer Farrow Sunday night were all captured last night.

The chain of evidence against them is complete, and is backed up by the confession of one of the accused, assuring their conviction and punishment.

Ed. Morris, Tom Mann and Charley Saunders, all Maysville negroes, are the guilty parties. Mann and Saunders were arrested about 9:30 o'clock last night, but it was after 1 o'clock this morning before Saunders was located and jailed. He was found at a house on Third street, Sixth ward. Morris is evidently the ringleader of the gang.

The capture of the trio was the result of the shrewd detective work of Mr. N. Gollenstein, keeper of the county's bloodhounds. A clew that would have been overlooked by nine out of ten men was taken up by Mr. Gollenstein and served to fasten the crime upon the guilty parties.

Mr. Gollenstein was formerly in the blacksmithing business. It seems every blacksmith has his style of shoeing horses. Mr. Gollenstein knew Mr. Geo. Crawford's work in this line, and when he examined the tracks of the horse driven by Mr. Farrow's assailants, he at once said the horse was shod by Mr. Crawford. The trail was followed by Mr. G. and his dogs into Orangeburg, and there the hounds lost it. Returning in the afternoon the various other roads leading out of Orangeburg were examined, but without success. On the way back to Maysville the dogs occasionally took up the trail, but would lose it, convincing Mr. G. that the men had come to this city.

After supper Mr. G. came down to examine the horses at the livery stables. He started in at Brown's, and on the third or fourth horse, shoes were found corresponding to the tracks at Mr. Farrow's home. The rest was easy. Mr. Brown said the horse was hired by Tom Mann Sunday evening. The negro in charge said the rig was returned after 12 o'clock Sunday night, covered with mud, and the horse almost dead from fast driving. Charley Saunders had left with Mann, and further questioning by Mr. G. brought out the fact that they stopped just east of the stable and took in a third party.

Mr. G. at once told the police to arrest Mann, Saunders and Morris, but by all means to get Morris. Instead of Morris, they at first arrested John Saunders, father of Charley, but John was shortly discharged and Morris was captured later. Chief of Police Donovan, Policemen Thompson, Pollitt, Easton, Sheriff Roberson and others did the rounding up.

At midnight Saunders made a confession. He is the one Farrow knocked down and Morris and Mann did the shooting.

Morris is the negro the bloodhounds ran down some months ago for the robbery of old man Soward, near the Farrow home. At his trial in Flemingsburg, Charley Saunders swore him out of that trouble. After the Sowards robbery, Saunders and Morris spent several days in Cincinnati spending money freely, but Saunders swore it was his money.

"Old Arkansaw" To-night.

"Clean-cut, clever comedy, with here and there a touch of pathos to embellish it; quiet humor devoid of the grotesque, and an interesting plot, form the constituent parts of the scenic production, "Old Arkansaw." Not an unnecessary character is to be found. The play itself affords many opportunities for brilliant work and the chances are seized every time."—Toledo Bee.

SLAUGHTER GREAT.

Details of the Sultan's Victory Over the Pretender's Forces.

Tangier, Morocco, Feb. 2.—The details of the sultan's victory over the forces of the pretender, Bu Hamarra, show that the battle was stubbornly contested and that the former's success was largely due to the co-operation on the critical moment of Beni Curein tribe, whose defection from the rebels the sultan had previously purchased. The artillery of the imperial forces, which were commanded by the minister of war, El Menebhi, consisted of eight Maxims and four Krupps. The sultan's troops opened the attack early in the morning and shortly afterward the pretender's camp was assailed in the rear by the Beni Oureins. In spite of the surprise and disadvantage of position, the rebels stubbornly maintained their ground and desperate fighting continued for three hours. The remnants of the rebel army then broke, abandoned the camp and fled in the direction of Tazab. The imperial troops are pursuing the fugitives and if Hamarra is not among the slain, his capture is confidently expected.

General Miles' Observations.

London, Feb. 2.—Lieutenant General Miles, who returned here from Windsor, said: "The king received me most cordially, recalled pleasant memories of our visit here at the time of the jubilee and spoke as friendly as ever of America. He showed keen interest in the far east, on which subject I was able to give him information. Altogether it was a most pleasant visit. The king said he hoped the Prince and Princess of Wales would be able to visit America. Nothing, however, is definitely settled." General Miles declined to discuss either the Venezuelan or the Philippine questions. By what the general terms "a mistake on the part of somebody here," Mrs. Miles was not invited to Windsor castle.

Brewery Workers.

Cincinnati, Feb. 2.—The annual convention of the United Brewery Workers reconvened with 150 delegates from all parts of the country present. The committee on credentials reported favorably upon all the delegates except the 14 from New York who were not accorded seats. These delegates had no one contesting their seats, but it was claimed that the local unions which they represented were not legal, that the New York locals had attempted to have the American Federation of Labor annul the charter of the National United Brewery Workers with a view to securing recognition themselves as the national organization.

Rough Voyage.

New York, Feb. 2.—The American liner St. Paul arrived from Southampton and Cherbourg, having been delayed by extremely bad weather. The steamer left Southampton at noon, Jan. 24, when a crack was found in one of the cylinder caps. The defect proved so serious that Captain Jamison decided to have it repaired before proceeding on voyage. After a delay of 10 hours the engineer made the necessary repairs and the steamship got under way again. Heavy southwest and west gales prevailed with southwesterly swells, making a very rough passage.

Troops Called Out.

Waterbury, Conn., Feb. 2.—With Companies F. First and Second regiments, Connecticut national guards, quartered in various parts of the city, ready for an emergency call on account of the trolley strike situation, the Connecticut Railway and Lighting company officials reopened their lines for business. No disturbances were reported. One of the companies of the national guard was sent to Naugatuck and will be quartered there doing duty at that end of the car line from this city.

No Consolidation.

San Francisco, Feb. 2.—Max Pam of New York, chairman of the executive committee of the United States Shipbuilding company, has arrived here to join President Nixon and other officials of the company, who have come to inspect the plant of the Union Iron works, which is owned by the corporation. He says he does not think there will be any consolidation between the United States shipbuilding company and the United States Steel company.

Consolidation Ratified.

Cleveland, Feb. 2.—The consolidation of the Savings and Trust company and the Citizens Savings and Loan association of this city was formally ratified at a joint meeting of the stockholders of the two concerns. The total deposits of the combined banks are about $21,000,000, exclusive of trust funds. The new company, to be incorporated this week, will be known as the Citizens' Savings and Trust company.

KING EDWARD ILL.

He Has a Feverish Cold and Is Forced to Abandon a Trip.

London, Feb. 2.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra were to have gone on a visit to the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, at Chatsworth, but their departure was postponed at the last minute, the reason being given that the king was suffering from a feverish cold.

Shortly after the king's return to the castle, a telegram was sent to the Duke of Devonshire saying his majesty had a cold and that Francis Laking, the king's physician, considered it unsafe for him to travel. The royal train has been ordered to be in readiness in the hope that the king will be able to carry out his intention of visiting Duke and Duchess of Devonshire.

Cushman For Commander.

East Orange, N. J., Feb. 2.—A movement has been started in the New England states for the election of Major Austin S. Soldier Prisoners Escape.

Detroit, Feb. 2.—Five soldier prisoners escaped from the guard house at Fort Wayne. They were confined in the old barracks and escaped by removing a glass panel from the door of their room and then unscrewing the lock and removing it. The fog was so dense that once outside of the building, detection was impossible. The men are Isaac Gosling, sentenced to two years for forgery; Edward Norton and James Wilson, serving two years each for desertion, and Philip Gleason and William S. Hopkins, serving three years for desertion.

Wicked Louisville.

Louisville, Feb. 2.—A resolution, introduced by Rev. J. Kinsey Smith, was adopted by the Louisville Ministerial association, calling upon the citizens of Louisville to take some action to prevent "the reign of lawlessness in Louisville." Recent murders were cited as evidence of the lack of proper police regulations, and the courts for their laxity in administering the law. All the ministers were called upon to preach to their people and to arouse them to some action.

CECIL TESTIFIES.

Indications That the Round-Up of the Long-Hunted Murderers of Gov. Goebel Near at Hand.

FRANKFORT, Ky., January 30.—Frank Cecil, of Bell County, indicted as "an accessory before the fact of the willful murder of William Goebel," voluntarily surrendered to the officers to-day and was admitted to bail in $3,000. Cecil came here last night on the strict quiet and went to the home of Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin. This morning he went before the grand jury, and shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon he was admitted to bail, his father being his bondsman.

It is said Cecil, who was indicted just a year ago, has been in Indiana for many months, but has been in communication with the authorities here for several weeks, looking to the action of to-day.

It seems evident that the Commonwealth intends to put Cecil on the witness stand in the next Powers and Howard trials, and, if all reports be true, he will be an important witness.

Cecil was in Frankfort nearly all the latter half of January, 1900, and remained here till the rump Legislature assembled in London, Ky. He is believed to have been in several conferences in the State House, where the shooting of Governor Goebel was discussed. It is believed that Youtsey's testimony disclosed the fact that Cecil was an important witness, hence the prosecution agreed to allow him bail if he would surrender himself and tell the grand jury what he knows. In the Berry Howard trial last April Sheriff Broughton of Bell County testified that Caleb Powers told him that Frank Cecil would be a good man to kill Goebel, and that Cecil would do it.

At the time Cecil and Jack Steele were indicted there was some testimony to the effect that they were in Power's office when Howard shot Goebel, but it has since developed that they were in the Agricultural Building at that minute.

With the testimony of Cecil and Youtsey to come out at the next trial, and indications of one or two more trying to get in the band wagon, it begins to look like the final round-up of the Goebel murderers is near at hand.

The mandates of the Court of Appeals in both the Powers and Howard cases have been issued and neither one now has a chance to accept the life sentence given at the last trials, and must take the chance of a death sentence on the next trial, whether they wish it or not.

"The Minister's Son."

"The Minister's Son" is like a simple melody, restful, though soul stirring. The play itself is quiet and wholesome, unfreighted with any giant purpose, any perplexing complications or any wearisome waste of words. In "The Minister's Son" will be found a beautiful, simple portrayal of everyday life, showing a son's loyalty to his parents, and while all the village think him a worthless idler and laugh at his invention, he goes to the city and soon interests capitalists in his scheme, sells out his patent and returns home in time to save his old father and mother from being turned out of their old home. This is one of last season's hits, and will be at Washington Opera House Friday, Feb. 6th.

Editor Davis is again confined to his home. Some days ago he bruised one of his legs by striking it against a chair at his home, and the injury though considered slight at first, has been giving him much trouble.

Judge Cantrill, of Frankfort, has decided that life, accident and employers' liability insurance companies doing business in Kentucky must pay a franchise tax. About twenty of the larger companies filed suit against the State Board of Valuation to enjoin it from assessing and collecting the tax. Their petition was dismissed, but they will take an appeal. If the decision is upheld by the Court of Appeals the various insurance companies will have to pay in back taxes about $500,000 and $100,000 hereafter.

at 2 o'clock p. m., at the court house door, in the city of Maysville, Ky., proceed to sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on a credit of six and twelve months, the following real property, to-wit: A tract of land situated in Mason County, Ky., and bounded and described as follows, to-wit: Lying and being upon the Taylor's Mill road and the Stone Lick dirt road in said county and bounded as follows: Bounded on the north by the Taylor's Mill dirt road, on the east by the land of Mrs. Montjoy, on the south by the land of Mrs. Montjoy, on the south by the Kentucky Central (now L. and N.) Railroad Company's right of way and on the west by the lands of Richard Soward, containing 140 acres, it being the same land mentioned by Moses Dimmitt in his last will and testament as recorded in Will Book X, page 34, Mason County Court Clerk's office.

The following described 100 acres will be sold subject to a life estate owned by Omar Dodson, to-wit: All that certain tract of land situated on the Taylor's Mill turnpike road and Stone Lick dirt road in Mason County, Ky., above referred to except that portion thereof set apart to said Mary A. Dimmitt, as and for her homestead exemption, said portion thereof hereby conveyed being bounded on the north by said homestead exemption and Taylor's Mill road; on the east by the land of Mrs. Montjoy; on the south by the Kentucky Central railway; and on the west by land of Richard Soward; containing 100 acres, more or less.

The following described forty acres will be sold without respect to said life estate, to-wit: Bounded on the east by Taylor's Mill turnpike; on the north by the Stone Lick dirt road; on the west by the lands of Richard Soward; and on the south by a line parallel with a fence dividing the Sinclair and Moses Dimmitt lands, including the improvements where said Mary Dimmitt lived, run so as to lay off and set apart to her forty acres. Said land will be offered in separate tracts and as a whole and be sold so as to realize the largest sum; or sufficient thereof to produce the sum of money to be made, to-wit: $5,000, and $250 probable costs of this action. The purchaser must be prepared to promptly execute bond, with approved security, for the purchase price, which bond shall bear legal interest from day of sale until paid. The purchaser will be allowed to pay the purchase money in cash. C. BURGESS TAYLOR, Master Commissioner.

MAYSVILLE, KENTUCKY

MR. HENRY THOMPSON.

Prominent Citizen Died This Morning and the Funeral Will Take Place Wednesday.

Mr. Henry Thompson, one of the county's most highly respected citizens, died this morning at 5:45 at his country home. He was paralyzed some years ago, and had been speechless ever since, but retained his mental faculties to the last.

Mr. Thompson was born in 1836. His wife, who was a Miss Wells, survives, with two children,—one of them Mrs. John L. Shuff, of Cincinnati.

The funeral takes place Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the home. Interment at Mayslick.

Mr. H. C. Isgrig was caught between a wall at the Styles warehouse Monday by a runaway team. His collar bone was broken and he sustained other serious injuries.

Mr. Wm. Durrett, while driving out of his barn Monday evening, was knocked off a load of tobacco, the load then falling on him, very seriously injuring him.

PITHY POINTS.

Taylor doubtless has anticipated the substance of Youtsey's confession.

If Taylor isn't implicated in what Youtsey has confessed, it will have been no confession.

It's rather hard to see how Judge Cantrill was to be blamed for the guilt of Powers, Howard and the like.

Any "confession" that didn't include Taylor would certainly be like the play of Hamlet, with Hamlet left out.

Some of the learned justices may now see where they erred in granting new trials to Powers and Howard.

If Taylor isn't responsible for the predicament in which Youtsey is placed there's no such thing as responsibility.

Taylor probably had an idea that he could hide behind Youtsey, but it appears that the latter is about to uncover his chief.

If Taylor isn't infinitely more culpable as to Goebel's assassination than Youtsey, there's no truth yet been told about the case.

Had Powers, Howard and Youtsey have succeeded in escaping to Indiana, they would have been "innocent" just like Statesman Taylor.

Some of the colored fraternity, who have been in request for selling whisky at Washington, have patterned after Statesman Taylor by putting the river between their valued carcasses and the law.

If Taylor doesn't intend to abide by the confession that Youtsey makes, he should now be preparing his own as an offset, as no one can have a better equipment of the peculiarities of that "grand performance."

Byrne's Nomination Rejected.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The senate committee on judiciary agreed to recommend the nomination of William Byrne for United States district attorney of Delaware be rejected. This action was taken after quite an extended discussion. The ground for the action of the committee was the connection of Byrne with Delaware politics. It was agreed to delay the report in order to give the president an opportunity to withdraw the nomination. Mr. Byrne belongs to the Addicks faction in Delaware. He was formerly district attorney, but resigned to run for congress on the Union or Addicks ticket. He was defeated and reappointed to his former position.

CHAS. A. WALTHER, Tailor.

It may seem idle talk to say much about Spring Clothing at this time of year. There are some few people who think it too early to place an order, but in having your clothes made to measure—and they really are the only kind that fit and last—two things should be considered. One is,

"He Who Takes Time By the Forelock" Never Gets Left!

So he who takes advantage of opportunities when presented, and selects his goods and places his order for whatever he may need in wearing apparel before the season fairly opens is never left. For why? As usual the good things go first, and he who gets the first is like the "proverbial bird," gets the best that's going. The second thing to be considered is tailors. When spring is here they are very busy, and in consequence late orders are delayed which cause annoyances otherwise avoided. Come and look at my line. Over two thousand styles to select from. Suits made here by the best skilled tailors from $23 up. Those made by the Globe Tailoring Company, for which I am agent, from $15 up.
